

One of the benefits of joining Preschool Promise is the tuition assistance available to reduce the cost of sending your 4-year-old to a Star Rated program. Costs vary for each Preschool site – some are even free, such as Dayton Public Schools and Miami Valley Child Development Centers (MVDCDC) – if you meet certain eligibility requirements.

The great news about Preschool Promise is tuition assistance is available to ALL families no matter your income. Tuition Assistance also covers co-pays for families on Publicly Funded Child Care (Title XX).

How to read the tuition assistance table

To estimate your tuition assistance, first identify the row that reflects your family's size and income level. Then look at the appropriate Family Income Tier chart on the right to see the estimated monthly tuition assistance you may be eligible to receive.

2019-20 Tuition Assistance Table Notes

Special Notes

- 1. For families attending a program that only charges a co-pay, such as Publicly Funded Child Care (Title XX) or Kettering City Schools, the co-pay amount for the Preschool child will be covered through Preschool Promise.
- 2. Families are eligible to receive up to 12 months of Tuition Assistance from Preschool Promise, between August 1-July 31. Tuition Assistance Rates will be pro-rated for partial months.
- 3. Children who attend a program with $0 tuition (such as Head Start, Preschool Special Ed programs, or Dayton Public Schools) will not receive Preschool Promise tuition assistance unless they have a need to extend to full day, in which case Tier F will be offered.
- 4. Tier F, Extension to Full Day, is for families who receive any state or federal subsidized funding to attend a partial day and need to send a child for a full day.
