Introducing Learn to Earn Dayton's Interactive Data Dashboard

Facilitator: Emma Smales

Get the first look at Learn to Earn Dayton's newly released data dashboard. This interactive web-based resource allows all users to access relevant data for student outcomes across the cradle-to-career continuum and explore the impacts of community conditions (absenteeism, poverty, etc.) on student success. (Part 1 of 2)

Emma Smales, Director of Data and Impact, joined Learn to Earn Dayton in 2022, having previously served as the Birth Outcomes Manager at Public Health – Dayton and Montgomery County and as Health Promotion Supervisor at the Clark County Combined Health District.
